

Amadeus cytric Travel & Expense

Powering smarter business travel

Your company's growth is related to cost, efficiency and various other management concerns. We know that at Amadeus. And by creating better journeys for your business travellers, we help positively impact your bottom line.

With Amadeus cytric Travel & Expense, you make travel a simple and stress-free experience that serves your business objectives. Discover how.

Business travel gets smarter for your corporation...

Drive your profitability

Did you know that companies with efficient travel management processes can save up to 20% in direct travel costs¹ and 70% on indirect costs?²

Indeed, travel and expense programmes simplify procurement, budgeting and cost control. From defining travel policies to booking travel at the right rates and the processing of expenses, Amadeus cytric Travel & Expense covers it all.

Accurate reporting helps you control, and cut, costs all the way. In particular, you lower your indirect costs from manual handling of travel expense errors, email exchanges and so on.

The full visibility on travel procurement, puts you in the driving seat with your travellers and with your suppliers.

A travel and expense programme that's easy to stick to

We simplify the complexity of travel. Because companies with policy compliance rates of over 80% can achieve 23% lower total indirect costs per traveller³.

We provide a consistent and intuitive user experience, from desktop to mobile phone. The same content is available however the user chooses to search or access. Expense management is automated and stress-free.

The integration of both expense management and travel booking makes it so easy. All available trip costs and details are added to the expense statement automatically. This reduces the risk of errors and fraud. We also include accounting and tax regulations.

Now with policy-compliant best practices applied across the entire process, you get significant benefits for your corporation and your employees.

“ We at VistaJet have decided to implement Amadeus cytric Travel & Expense for several reasons. First, because of the amount of content the solution has, both from Amadeus and other sources. All the travel providers are integrated into one platform that is easy for our employees to book. Second, cytric Mobile Companion, the mobile component of the solution, gives travellers the option to manage their trip on the go - anytime and anywhere. Third, the tool is easy to customise and use. Last but not least, we chose Amadeus because of its reputation as an innovative travel technology company. Moving forward, we are confident that Amadeus will give us the continued support that we need to streamline our travel & expense process and further grow our business. ”

...providing better journeys for your travellers

The best available content to choose from

Give your business travellers the greatest possible choice - wherever and however they need to go. We offer the widest range of global travel content, including air, hotel, rail, car and additional ancillary services. Either directly from any global distribution system (GDS) or through numerous direct connections (Vendor Direct Access).

Travel made personal

Our search results take into account your travellers' personal booking history and an overall comfort value⁴. There is even a dedicated dashboard just for travel arrangers to speed up the booking. It includes a subsequent view of all related booking data. That way your travellers know that their preferences are taken care of.

The most enjoyable user experience on mobile or desktop

Employees can book flights, rail travel, hotel rooms and a range of other services online anytime, anywhere. This means less work coordinating with a travel agency, freeing up more time for other tasks. Booking can even start directly from common business applications, such as meetings in their calendar.

Travel options within your company policy are available at a glance, with our leading fare search technology. There's no need to open multiple windows. Why waste time searching elsewhere?

Travellers can also manage their trip on the go, whether checking in for a flight, approving a trip request or scanning a receipt. They can even fill in their travel expenses straight from the scanned receipts.

With the technology that keeps the travel industry moving

Technology that delivers transparency and data

Our open and customisable dashboarding solution⁵ delivers the analytics you need. You get an overview of all direct costs on flights, hotels, trains and car rentals. With visibility and control you are able to improve your programme as it evolves.

Technology that keeps travelers safe and connected

Our managed travel approach ensures support and duty of care for your travellers. They receive notifications in case of flight or time changes. Even better, they are instantly located and contacted in case of incident.

Technology that ensures operational efficiency

Our solution works in the background to ensure efficiency throughout your systems. It adapts as you evolve and integrates with your existing Enterprise Resource Planning, payment, or expense management systems.

Built on open systems with a flexible architecture, our platforms are stable and secure. They are compliant with strict data security standards (PCI-DSS).
