

Amadeus e-Travel Management e-Reporter

Sales & e-Commerce

e-Reporter adds a whole new dimension to your business when you need to make smart decisions based on solid information. Whatever you need to know in order to understand the cost drivers of your travel spend: the efficiency and ROI of your online booking solution, online adoption ratio, policy compliance, tracking staff travels and much, much more . . . e-Reporter gives you critical information - fast.

Monitor your business - your way

One of the most difficult and time-consuming parts of running a business is staying in control of ever increasing travelling costs. Left unmanaged, business travel can lead to unforeseen expenses.

e-Reporter allows you to keep a close watch on everything connected to your company's travel and travellers: wherever content originates, with e-Reporter you achieve a consolidated view across all areas of your travel business, no matter the travel agency or reservation system you use. Through Traveller Care reports, e-Reporter allows you to keep in touch with your travelling staff - wherever they are; pre-trip reporting ensures compliance with your corporation's travel policy; scheduled monthly Activity Reports help you monitor all your company's travel activities and plan ahead; and email scheduling allows you to save time and ensure reports automatically reach the people who really need them within your organisation.

In need of business-critical information?

How can you make effective decisions without the support of the relevant information? You don't have the time to master yet more software but need an intuitive interface that allows you to easily create executive reports that are tailored to the different audiences in your company. e-Reporter's BusinessObjects™ Web Intelligence™ module searches through all the booking information in Amadeus e-Travel Management and compiles the data you need. Use predefined reports, build your own or get one of our consultants to build custom reports for you. Follow your executive summary daily, weekly or monthly. You have the choice.

Increase your negotiation power and save costs

More and more corporations promote the use of online booking tools in order to reduce their travel spend. Business travel costs are one of the top five categories of controllable expenditures within most large companies. However, cost-efficient online booking has to be accompanied by negotiated deals and corporate travel policies. This is where e-Reporter is at its most impressive. For example, it can track the providers your company uses more than others, giving you the tools to negotiate better rates. It also shows you how to monitor potential and actual savings per provider, route and carrier. In other words, e-Reporter not only enables you to make the best deals for your company, it also helps you create the optimal corporate travel policy.
