

Can members of your existing staff take on the responsibility of a professional programmer? Your best bet is to purchase additional commercial application software and then outsource the workload. But these costs can add up quickly.

Amadeus has a solution that can eliminate the extra strain on your budget—and allow you to use existing staff to develop, maintain and manage scriptwriting for your business.

Amadeus QuickScripts is a next generation scripting product, with integrated tools that set a new industry standard. Designed for use on the Amadeus Selling Platform by novice and experienced scriptwriters alike, Amadeus QuickScripts allows you to reap the benefits of simplifying workflow, improving productivity and maintaining flexibility in your business.

Reduce costs & boost profitability

With Amadeus QuickScripts, you can assign scripting tasks to existing staff. Your own employees can quickly learn to create and maintain scripts. Say goodbye to the excessive costs related to outsourcing your scriptwriting and purchase of commercial application software.

By using Amadeus QuickScripts, your business will be able to manage key phases of the “scripting lifecycle”—from defining requirements through maintenance support—saving countless hours while boosting profitability.

Improve productivity and simplify workflow

From defining requirements to documentation, debugging and deployment, scriptwriters for your business have a rough road. Amadeus QuickScripts offers integrated modules and tools to reduce the daunting tasks—and make the job more manageable from start to finish.

Plus Amadeus QuickScripts offers a timesaving migration tool—the first of its kind in the industry—that converts existing scripts to Amadeus QuickScripts, with a near-identical look and feel.

The perfect solution

Amadeus QuickScripts bridges the gap between basic functionality provided by Selling Platform Smart Keys and the more advanced Amadeus Scripting developer tool. With a little help from modules and scriptwriting tools, your scriptwriting needs can be taken care of quickly and in-house, saving you from the cost of custom programming by a professional.

Features to simplify scripting

- › Point-and-click navigation and innovative graphical user interface (GUI) design provides greater efficiencies for ease of use
- › Automatic deployment of new or updated scripts to each workstation, throughout the network or via e-mail enables your business to incorporate changes seamlessly
- › Developer application supports nearly 100 actions, over 40 system variables and an unlimited number of user variables to give your scriptwriter the power to easily develop scripts for all your needs
